

Business Faculty

The Plaster School of Business at College of the Ozarks is seeking a full-time business faculty member to teach in-person undergraduate courses in our ACBSP-accredited, multi-disciplinary business program. Primary teaching responsibilities will include courses in operations management, strategic management, and international business.

College of the Ozarks is a Christ-centered liberal arts institution committed to hiring faculty members who embrace our Christian mission, pursue excellence in undergraduate teaching, and serve as mentors and positive role models for students. We value collegial collaboration and a shared commitment to student success.

Required Qualifications

- MBA or terminal degree in a business-related field
- Minimum of 18 graduate hours in operations management or international business
- Proficiency in student learning outcomes assessment and program-level assessment procedures
- Familiarity with ACBSP accreditation standards and procedures
- Experience with undergraduate student advising
- Demonstrated commitment to student success, academic excellence, and collegial collaboration
- Ability to build and maintain relationships with community and industry stakeholders

Preferred Qualifications

- Terminal degree in a business-related field
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness in higher education
- Industry experience relevant to teaching areas
